

SEEING RED AND FEELING FESTIVE BY THE SEA

By Ray Langhammer

Ready or not! It is holiday season... Time to deck the halls! There is something magical about this time of year. Gatherings with friends, family and loved ones. Your home is a showcase for your festive spirit! The team at Barclay Butera is here to help you prepare a festive holiday home.

Adding touches of red give a warm, vibrant glow that will put an instant smile on everyone's face. Just by adding scarlet pillows to a sofa or chair, a slipcovered back on a dining host chair or a bold stripe rug in red on a wide plank wood floor, red hurricanes and lanterns to a tablescape... your room is transformed to another level. And it shouldn't stop at the living areas, especially if bedrooms and laundry rooms are visible to guests staying over the holidays. Duvets, blankets, and throw pillows beckon visitors to feel the festive spirit even as they sleep. Why, even a coat of paint can turn a boring barstool into a work of art. Floral arrangements become the center of attention on coffee tables, kitchen island, dining tables and even nightstands. Kitchen towels add pizzazz as well as pots, pans and mixers. The opportunities are limitless.

So if you are inclined to pull out all the stops this season, let your imagination run free. Literally roll out the red carpet. For a dash of holiday spirit sure to please everyone... come see the design teams at Barclay Butera Interiors in our newly redesigned showrooms in Newport Beach, West Hollywood and Park City, Utah. Cheers!
