

BEAUTIFUL EVENTS

HIGH POINT House Beautiful had even more reason to celebrate at our semi-annual High Point dinner on April 17: the appointment of Newell Turner to editor in chief of House Beautiful. Industry friends, designers and VIPs all came together to help us honor Newell and kick off High Point's Spring Market.

Mitchell Gold and Newell Turner

Raymond Waites with IFDA/Raymond Waites National Design Competition winner, Bradley James Yandow

FARROW & BALL

House Beautiful partnered with Farrow & Ball at their Soho, New York store on March 25 for a special book signing with designer Thomas O'Brien, featuring his new book American Modern. Guests were also treated to a preview of Farrow & Ball's new wallpaper collection 'The Chelsea Papers'.

Kathy Banfi of Farrow & Ball with Thomas O'Brien

Andrew Palecek, Barclay Butera, Christine Phillips, Sheila O'Daniel & Allan Palecek

MOHAWK CENTURY TILE On April 17, House Beautiful partnered with Mohawk and Century Tile in Chicago to present "Today's 4 Big Design Forces," a presentation by House Beautiful's Sean Sullivan. The presentation highlighted four Design Forces for 2010 (from our Dec/Jan 2010 issue) with examples of Mohawk flooring and carpeting to bring these trends to life.

Nicki Osborn, Elaine Carlson, Jill Levitz, Kelly Nichols, Cramer-Krasselt, Meredith Alenky, House Beautiful

Presenting "Today's 4 Big Design Forces"

BEAUTIFUL EVENTS

HIGH POINT House Beautiful had even more reason to celebrate at our semi-annual High Point dinner on April 17: the appointment of Newell Turner to editor in chief of House Beautiful. Industry friends, designers and VIPs all came together to help us honor Newell and kick off High Point's Spring Market.

Andrew Palecek, Barclay Butera, Christine Phillips, Sheila O'Daniel & Allan Palecek

the BEST!

1

3

2

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29

30

31

32

33

34

35

36

37

38

39

40

41

42

43

44

45

46

47

48

49

50

51

52

53

54

55

56

57

58

59

60

61

62

63

64

65

66

67

68

69

70

71

72

73

74

75

76

77

78

79

80

81

82

83

84

85

86

87

88

89

90

91

92

93

94

95

96

97

98

99

100

101

102

103

104

105

106

107

108

109

110

111

112

113

114

115

116

117

118

119

120

121

122

123

124

125

126

127

128

129

130

131

132

133

134

135

136

137

138

139

140

141

142

143

144

145

146

147

148

149

150

151

152

153

154

155

156

157

158

159

160

161

162

163

164

165

166

167

168

169

170

171

172

173

174

175

176

177

178

179

180

181

182

183

184

185

186

187

188

189

190

191

192

193

194

195

196

197

198

199

200

201

202

203

204

205

206

207

208

209

210

211

212

213

214

215

216

217

218

219

220

221

222

223

224

225

226

227

228

229

230

231

232

233

234

235

236

237

238

239

240

241

242

243

244

245

246

247

248

249

250

251

252

253

254

255

256

257

258

259

260

261

262

263

264

265

266

267

268

269

270

271

272

273

274

275

276

277

278

279

280

281

282

283

284

285

286

287

288

289

290

291

292

SEND US A PICTURE OF...

What You Collect

The objects we're drawn to say so much about our personal style. The objects we're passionate about say even more.

Interviews by MIMI READ

"Hats are so many things. They're fanciful, practical, festive, romantic, and they tell a story. My collection is kind of haphazard: vintage; couture; fezies from my travels; hats my sister, Kika Schoenfeld, makes. She made the helmet hat, the pointy-point hat, the pom-pom hats—all her hats have a bit of Seuss in them. I'm wearing one. It's delicious and whimsical, and also, I think it's nice to say the word 'pom-pom' as often as you can."

MAIRA KALMAN, ARTIST AND AUTHOR

"Fifteen years ago, I went to Portobello Road and found this really special pocket watch that someone had put in a sterling casing to make a table clock. I was so intrigued, I began collecting clocks. The Ralph Lauren charger makes a great backdrop for the collection, which evokes the character of 18th- and 19th-century gentlemen."

BARCLAY BUTERA
INTERIOR DESIGNER

"My mother gave me antique crystal bottles that belonged to her grandmother, and it inspired me to start collecting antique dressing-table accoutrements. The idea of people traveling with these highly decorative objects to keep their toiletries in is quite marvelous. Nowadays you can't even take your moisturizer on the plane with you!"

MARTYN LAWRENCE-BULLARD
INTERIOR DESIGNER

"I love gardening, so anything associated with it I tend to be attracted to. Watering cans make me particularly happy. Sometimes I use them in displays in my shop—I'll put a beautiful diamond water-lily brooch next to a charming watering can. The miniatures have such big personalities: I keep several on my desk just to look at."

MISH TWOROKOWSKI, JEWELRY DESIGNER

"Fifteen years ago, I went to Portobello Road and found this really special pocket watch that someone had put in a sterling casing to make a table clock. I was so intrigued, I began collecting clocks. The Ralph Lauren charger makes a great backdrop for the collection, which evokes the character of 18th- and 19th-century gentlemen."

BARCLAY BUTERA
INTERIOR DESIGNER

HOUSEBEAUTIFUL.COM