INSTANT ROOM BARCLAY BUTERA

"When I was growing up, we never used our living room," says designer Barclay Butera. Here he imagines a living room you'd never ever leave.

Produced by
ORLI BEN-DOR

Curtains

"CARRER is light and bright, a touch of fashion you can drop into the home. I use it for curtains—pinch-pleated on iron rings and hung from a burnished bamboo rod."

Pillows

"I like blending styles—paisley, stripes, the Chinese emblems on REALM. The flocked medallion has a balance and symmetry that is great for pillows."

Wing Chair

"Run ENNOBLED vertically up my Grant Wing Chair. The chocolate and blood orange stripes play with the lines of the curvy arms." Chair from Barclay Butera Home.

Sofa

"WESTWOOD really lightens a room. The weave evokes a two-tone linen. With its tufting and brass nailheads, the Manchester Sofa makes the fabric look crisp." Sofa from Barclay Butera Home.

BARCLAY BUTERA

The L.A.-based designer's new collection of fabrics for Kravet is elegant and eclectic. "It's about beautiful patterns you can layer. Using different kinds of fabric in one space is really what I'm known for."

Start Here

CARREY IN BRICK; LINEN, SILK

BEST FOR: Curtains

"This was inspired by a great paisley scarf. We printed it on an ecru background to get a softer color, a muted Chinese red. It's playful, not serious. Combined with the other patterns in the room, Carrey becomes part of a collection of fabrics. It brings a well-traveled feeling to the room."
