Curl up with the "Twist
a Twill" wool blanket
by Tina Ralzer, $139, available through gretehome.com

graphic patterns on dinnerware are sure to jazz up any table—even when mixed with the most understated whiteware. Infuse chunky antique pieces with new life by re-covering them in bright hand-blocked prints.

Make an all-chintz room less precious with unexpected pops of geometric-patterned pillows. Transform the shower in a bathroom or the backsplash in a kitchen with oversized tile installations. Whatever the application, you do the math when it comes to sprinkling these standout designs throughout your home. ▶

Hip to be Square

Dubbed the "Regal Retreat," this bedroom was created for the Pasadena Showcase House for the Arts by L.A.-based designer Barclay Butera. A sucker for symmetry, he chose pairs of Moroccan accent pieces and lighting, all boasting intricate geometric designs that he layered with traditional-looking upholstered pieces for an exotic blend of East and West.

Jasper Conran gave bone-china a mod facelift when he designed the "Mosaic" pattern for Wedgwood, $100 for 5-piece navy blue place setting (wedgwood.com)

Bored in the bedroom? Try a new angle with the gray "Lima" rug from Calypso Home, $650 for a 5x8-foot size (calypsobath.com)

OUR designer says

Geometric prints are classic, often based on centuries-old designs. Every interior needs them as a foil to anything floral. —Philip Gorrivan
